William Andracsek, was with CIA

William A. Andracsek, 54, a former employee of the Central Intelligence Agency, died Thursday of pneumonia in Circle Terrace Hospital in Alexandria. He also suffered from emphysema and diabetes.

Mr. Andracsek, a native of Washington, lived in Annandale. He was a graduate of Oxon Hill High School.

His father, Julius Andracsek, who died June 23, was a longtime owner and operator of the University Pastry Shop on Wisconsin Avenue NW. William Andracsek worked in the family bakery and ice cream shop before serving in the Air Force; the business now is operated by his brothers.

Mr. Andracsek worked for the CIA from 1952 until retiring about 10 years ago. He was a recipient of the CIA's Bronze Medal.

He next was a security guard supervisor for the Allied Security Guards until retiring again in the early 1980s.

A former president of the Alexandria-Lincolnia Lions Club, Mr. Andracsek was the recipient of the Lions' District Governors Appreciation Award. He also worked for the Lions' Eye Bank project.

He was a member of St. Ignatius Catholic Church in Oxon Hill and had been an active participant in the Neighborhood Watch Program in Annandale.

He is survived by his wife, Florence Andracsek, a son Bill C. Andracsek, and a daughter, Rose A. Fox, of Annandale; his mother, Rosalie C. Andracsek of Temple Hills; a sister, Ellen Grimm of Camp Springs; two brothers, George L. Andracsek of Clinton and Thomas E. Andracsek of Camp Springs; and a grandchild.
